Top tips from Brodie Castle's head gardener

Brodie Castle's head gardener has created a series of videos from the property to offer those in lockdown some gardening tips and inspiration.

The beautifully landscaped grounds at Brodie Castle, which is owned and cared for by National Trust for Scotland, continue to flourish with over 100 varieties of its famous daffodils in full bloom.

Head gardener, Ed Walling, lives on site at Brodie Castle and while the property is closed to the public, he continues to carry out essential maintenance on the garden.

Ed takes viewers behind the scenes around the historic Morayshire estate and gives viewers a guide on how to make a spring hanging basket. He also goes to Brodie Castle's vegetable garden to give his top tips for planting brassicas - cabbage, kale, broccoli and brussels sprouts.

All National Trust for Scotland properties are currently closed to stop the spread of the coronavirus. For more information on Brodie Castle, please visit: <https://www.nts.org.uk/visit/places/brodie-castle>.
