

NATIONAL TRUST FOR SCOTLAND MEDIA RELEASE

11 March 2019

A very musical mansion at Hill of Tarvit

Celebrate the beginning of spring at the National Trust for Scotland's Hill of Tarvit Mansion near Cupar as they host their popular jazz brunch.

Taking place on Sunday 24 March the mansion hosts the last in this series of brunches which have proved popular throughout the winter months.

The event takes place in the Hill of Tarvit's Great Hall and combines two of the nation's greatest loves – food and music. Delicious buffet-style delights including continental breakfast favourites as well as some fabulous hot dishes and special treats are accompanied by some great live jazz music performed by the Fife Youth Jazz Orchestra.

Geraldine Graf, Hospitality and Events Manager at Hill of Tarvit said: "We're looking forward to our last jazz brunch for a bit. These have been brilliant events and offer a great opportunity to enjoy a relaxing Sunday with fantastic food. We're pleased to support young musicians in Fife, giving them an opportunity to perform in a casual environment and display their great musical abilities. The musicians will perform in our spectacular Great Hall - the surroundings and acoustics of which are perfect for events of this kind."
